Wakulla County

...the Natural Place to be

Wakulla County, the natural place to be, sums up the feelings of residents. A visit to our parks puts you in touch with the enjoyment of bird watching and wildlife viewing. Visitors to our parks delight in the sights of fish jumping, squirrels playing, egrets preening in the sun, bald eagles soaring overhead, and numerous other wildlife species enjoying their natural habitat. Old bald cypress, giant live oaks, and grand magnolia trees provide a picturesque background for picnicking, recreation, and just plain relaxing.

A walk along Mashes Island Park, off Coastal Highway 98, piques your senses with the fresh feel and coastal smell of salt spray from Ochlockonee Bay. Just around the bend is our new pier, with some of the best fishing in the area.

If you enjoy hiking and viewing nature undisturbed, head north to Purify Bay Park on Oyster Bay in Medart. Bordered by the St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge, the park will delight your senses with its wild natural beauty.

Our busiest park is Azalea Park located in downtown Crawfordville. Equipped with a lighted blacktop walking trail and picnic tables, it is the perfect place for daily exercise or family gatherings.

There are many other parks in our nature-based county offering untold natural wonders and outdoor recreation opportunities. Come see for yourself. And if you do, we know you'll be back—and soon!
